

LABOR DAY WEEKEND BART WILL OPERATE ALL NIGHT DURING BAY BRIDGE CLOSURE

TRAINS TO RUN HOURLY, AND WILL ONLY STOP AT 14 STATIONS AFTER MIDNIGHT

Dear Customer:

Normally BART service ends each day around midnight. But this Labor Day Weekend, BART will operate all night long because Caltrans will be closing the Bay Bridge in both the eastbound and westbound directions for earthquake retrofit work. So to help people get between the East Bay and San Francisco, BART will operate during the overnight hours. However, BART train service will run hourly and only serve 14 of BART's 43 stations. BART strongly urges passengers who want to take advantage of the overnight service to get on during the day at a station that will be open overnight to avoid being stranded.

Learn more about why the Bay Bridge is closing by watching the BARTtv News story on the closure at www.BART.gov/BARTtv.

During the Labor Day weekend, BART will operate on its normal timetable. On Labor Day, BART will operate on a Saturday schedule. However, after midnight, the hourly, overnight service to the 14 stations will start around 1 a.m. and go until roughly 4 a.m. on Friday September 4th until 6 a.m. on Saturday, September 5th until 8 a.m. on Sunday, September 6th and until 6 a.m. on Labor Day, Monday, September 7th. There will be no overnight BART service from 1 a.m. – 4 a.m. on the morning of Tuesday, September 8th even though the Bay Bridge will be closed during that time.

These are the 14 stations that will be open overnight – the ones with parking lots are in bold:

SAN FRANCISCO:

- 24th Street/Mission
- Daly City
- Embarcadero
- Powell St.

EAST BAY:

- Bay Fair
- Downtown Berkeley
- Coliseum/Oakland Airport
